UF CHAIRMAN PLEADS FOR HELP OF ALL IN COMMUNITY

The help of the entire community in carrying to a successful conclusion the Gettysburg United Fund campaign was asked today by Richard Guise, volunteer campaign chairman. The drive will get underway here in 10 days with goal of $32,000.

"If we want the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, a fine library and the many other services included in the United Fund, then we must have people prepared to give time, people prepared to give money and people who are willing to live both," Chairman Guise said.

"The 1964-65 greater Gettysburg area United Fund is about to begin. The budgets of various agencies have been scrutinized and evaluated. A total campaign budget of $32,000 for 11 participating organizations has evolved.

NEED VOLUNTEERS

"Two new agencies have been admitted to the fund this year: The Salvation Army and the Pennsylvania Citizens Council. Both are worthwhile organizations in which considerable local interest has been shown. Two agencies have been dropped from the fund: National Travelers Aid and Pennsylvania Mental Health. A paid director has not been rehired, keeping our goal in line with previous years.

"Our agencies, to exist, must have 'dollars.' The United Fund has been able to keep them 'volunteer dollars' not 'tax dollars.' But to get 'volunteer dollars' we need volunteers. A large number of persons have already offered their services and have begun to organize the campaign.

"Possibly no other organization offers you the opportunity to help so many people. Through United Fund's 11 agencies — one volunteer, one donation touches in some way the lives of almost everyone in this community. Support your United Fund.

"We need the help of the entire community."

Local Man Has Shoulder Broken

Joseph Hess, 36, Gettysburg R. 6, was reported today as "satisfactory" at the Harrisburg Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday with a broken shoulder.

Hess, employed in the construction of the Holiday Motel in Harrisburg, was struck on the back of the head and shoulder by some cement that had fallen from two stories above him. He told the family he was fortunate because he was standing at an open elevator shaft at the time and if the impact had sent him forward he would have fallen some distance. However, he fell backward on receiving the blow. The falling concrete cut an artery in the shoulder. Physicians said the artery sealed Friday and placed him on the satisfactory list.

TOURISTS GET PARKING AREA

Public interest in the monument to the 20th Maine has led to establishment of a parking area on Wright Ave., near its intersection with Sykes Ave., Park Superintendent Kittridge A. Wing announced today.

Superintendent Wing said parking conditions became a problem when more and more tourists stopped on the road to walk the short distance on the southeast slope of Little Round Top to view the marker. The new parking lot was installed to help alleviate the congested condition caused by the parking there.

The 20th Maine took part in one of the most dramatic actions of the Battle of Gettysburg on the afternoon of July 2. Holding the extreme left flank of the Union line on Little Round Top, the regiment was repeatedly attacked by an Alabama unit. In setting up the defensive position for the Maine soldiers Colonel Chamberlain had sent one company somewhat to the east, and when the Confederates attacked, pushing the main portion of the Maine troops back, Colonel Chamberlain and his men thought their missing company had been captured. Finally, with ammunition exhausted and realizing his men had nothing to withstand another charge by the Confederates, Chamberlain ordered an attack. Their rush started to push the Confederates back and at that moment the missing company hit the Confederates on the flank and the Confederates retreated.

Downs asked Stock, "If you were so rich you need not work, what would you do?" Stock answered, "I would continue to work, but with a vacation every year. It would kill me to stop work."

61 Handicapped Get New Jobs

Assemblyman Harry D. Ridinger today reported that 61 former unemployed physically handicapped Adams County workers have helped Pennsylvania lead the nation in job rehabilitation for the third consecutive year.

Ridinger said he had been informed by the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation in the State Department of Labor and Industry that 11,103 Pennsylvanians who obtained new employment through the state-federal program in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964, exceeded the previous all-time high of 10,577 in 1962-63.

"Pennsylvania's total constitutes a new state record for a one-year period," Ridinger said. "It should be borne in mind that this entire program of state-federal aid has helped all of these people to take themselves off the relief rolls and restored them as useful, wage-earning citizens and taxpayers."

LAUGHTER'S A TONIC

Laughter is a tonic . . . for the hearts of man . . . this has been a proven fact . . . since the world began . . . laughter lifts our spirits high into the air . . . those who laugh will banish . . . gray clouds of despair . . . nothing is more pleasing . . . for mankind to hear . . . than the sound of laughter . . . heartfelt, and sincere . . . matters not how troubled . . . we may chance to be . . . just a bit of laughter . . . seems to set us free . . . it's as though the mind is washed . . . with a soothing balm . . . laughter makes the roughest sea . . . become very calm . . . laughter is a very merry little elf . . . even when a person . . . must laugh at himself.

Scars Prove Speed Of His Fast Draw

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Philip Edminster Jr. is impressed with the trickiness of the fast draw — and he has the scars to prove it.

His .22-caliber pistol went off before it cleared the holster while Edminster, 24, was practicing the fast draw. He was treated for a bullet wound in his right leg.

MECHANICSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Abel of Wrightsville won a 20-car length victory over Gene Goodling, Stoverstown, Friday night in the 40-lap Langhorne qualifier for modified stock cars at Williams Grove Speedway.

Abel, however, will not represent Williams Grove in the Langhorne race in October because he previously qualified at Lincoln Speedway. Goodling will be the Williams Grove representative.

Leroy Feltz of Jonestown finished third in Friday night's feature. There were several minor mishaps, but no one was hurt.

PUERTO RICO IN CLEO'S PATH

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Small but dangerous hurricane Cleo, packing winds up to 80 miles per hour, sped toward Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands today.

Cleo was 450 miles east southeast of San Juan early today. "It continues moving toward the west northwest at about 20 miles per hour and is expected to continue this direction and speed for the next 12 hours," the San Juan Weather Bureau said.

Hurricane warnings were in effect for the entire Leeward Islands and gale warnings flew from Dominica, at the southern end of the Leewards, to St. Lucia. A hurricane watch continued for the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

"All interests in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands should keep in touch with the latest information on this hurricane today and tonight," the Weather Bureau added.

Granddaughter Of Gen. Hancock Dies: A granddaughter of Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock, a hero of the Battle of Gettysburg, died Saturday in her home at 228 Beacon St., Boston. Funeral services for Mrs. Ada H. Dorr were conducted Wednesday noon at All Saints Chapel Church of the Advent, Boston.

Mrs. Dorr, widow of cotton broker, Alfred Dorr, had one son, Hancock, who died in 1940. He was an adjutant of the First Corps of Cadets.

Her grandfather, the northern general, was nominated for President by the Democratic party in 1880, but was defeated by James A. Garfield.

Mrs. Dorr's husband was a descendant of Ebenezer Dorr, who was among those spreading the alarm of the approach of the British to Concord and Lexington.

Whitie Isn't Stuck, New Windsor, Md. (AP)—Whitie isn't stuck in the silo any more.

Stanley Simmons said he didn't know how his 7-year-old Holstein got out. He left her to her own devices overnight. When he went out to milk this morning, there she was—free.

Simmons said Whitie wandered off after he milked her last night. Somehow she squirmed her way through the 2½ by 2-foot silo door.

"She's not very tall," said Simmons, "but awfully broad."

Simmons had checked at midnight and she was still trapped.

"She got in by herself; I figured she could get out by herself," he said. "She's in good condition. No damage."

Today's Talk

SUFFICIENT UNTO THE DAY

Lord Rowton once asked Lord Beaconsfield this question: "What is the more remarkable, the most self-sustained and powerful sentence you know?" The answer was: "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

It is well for us all to keep this answer well in mind. Stephen Crane and three companions were once wrecked off the shores of eastern Florida. In Crane's brief book, "The Open Book," the story is told. The most pregnant sentence in that story, to me, was this one: "None knew the color of the sky."

Tomorrow is a sealed book. None has ever revealed its secrets. But today is our one golden opportunity, our one best bet to do our best. Why then worry about tomorrow—or any tomorrow? Tomorrow will take care of itself when it comes, if you take care of today.

The great scope of Walt Whitman's free and airy poetry is largely appraised from his own statement as applied to himself, when he stated: "I am immense!" Thus it was that he looked out upon large areas, in big space, and touched all human emotion. He could say: "Sufficient unto the day is the beauty thereof!"

Our individual lives are an inseparable part of the loom of life. When we weave our individual life, we touch all efforts that make up the complete pattern. It is impossible, for example, to limit the influence that we radiate, whether in word or through act. The responsibility for a better world is ours individually, as well as humanity as a whole. Therefore each day has a touch of gold within its performance.

Sufficient unto the day is the opportunity thereof. Courage is acceptance. Flaubert said of Shakespeare: "He was not a man but a continent; there were great men in him, whole crowds, countries." How easy, therefore, to appraise the importance that Shakespeare must have placed upon the opportunity of each single day.

Can any of us afford to place a small price-tag upon any of our days?

Just Folks

THE WISE STAGE

I wonder can we live it through,
This dreadful age of know-it-all,
When wrong is everything we do
And childhood's never wrong at all.We're helpless as she chatters down
Old-fashioned notions we express,
Insisting on an evening gown And not another pretty dress.This dawning wisdom lights the rooms
With most astounding flashes bright,And oft with arrogance presumes
To set her dear old parents right.I sit and chuckle in my chair
The while she tells her mother straight
Just how she ought to trim her hair
And to be watchful of her weight.As, well, this age of know-it-all
Is on all parents have to meet.First baby, then a toddler small,
And next a child on dancing feet,And then into the world she goes,
Discoveries of her own to find,Then has to tell us all she knows
And rather plainly speaks her mind.Sometimes her mother says to me:
"I wonder can we live it through

So very wise she's grown to be!

What do you think we ought to do?"

"Just grin and bear it. 'Tis a stage

Of life which children all go through.

You were just like her at her age,
And I'd my spell of wisdom, too!"

Phillies Win Again While Reds Take 2nd Place As Giants Lose To Cardinals

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Dark pulled the trigger once too often in his gambling game of Russian Roulette.

Dark's slumping San Francisco Giants lost their sixth straight game, 6-5 to St. Louis Friday night, with the help of an intentional walk that put the tying run on base.

The defeat dropped the Giants into third place in the National League, the first time they've been lower than second since the first week of the season. They stand one game behind Cincinnati and 8½ back of league-leading Philadelphia.

FAILED THIS TIME

On four previous occasions this year, Dark daringly violated the generally accepted baseball strategy of NOT putting the winning run on base intentionally. Each time, though, that Dark's pitchers walked the winning run to first base, the Giants ran away with a victory.

But his latest attempt failed miserably. With the Giants leading 5-3 in the ninth inning, Lou Brock at second and two out, Dark pulled the trigger — and Bill White walked to first.

After the walk, Dal Maxvill singled to left field, bringing in Brock and putting White at second. Mike Shannon followed with another single, this one a grounder that second baseman Hal Lanier managed to stop on the outfield grass.

PHILS BLANK BUCS

White raced home with the tying run, and Maxvill scampered into third. Lanier, mean while, fired the ball to the plate, but he was off balance, and the ball sailed wildly past catcher Tom Haller.

Maxvill dashed home with the winning run.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 3-2, New York walloped Chicago 7-0 and Houston nipped Milwaukee 3-2.

Home runs by Jim Hart and Orlando Cepeda had helped the Giants to their 5-3 lead. Hart connected with one in a three-run first inning while Cepeda drove his 25th homer in the third. Ken Boyer batted in the Cardinals' first three runs with a double and a single.

Chris Short scattered seven hits, winning his 13th game in 19 decisions as the Phillies posted their fourth straight victory. The league-leaders picked up a run in the second when Alex Johnson singled, took second on a balk by Pirates' pitcher Bob Veale and scored on Tony Taylor's single.

Johnny Callison drove in the other run in the eighth with a single.

STH WIN FOR REDS

The Reds won their fifth straight behind the brilliant relief pitching of Bill McCool. The rookie hurled the last 6-2-3 innings, allowing only one hit, striking out nine and permitting only one Dodger to reach third.

Starter Jim Maloney drove in two Red runs with a second-inning double, then scored the third on a bunt single by Chico Ruiz.

The Mets also won their fifth straight and tied the longest winning streak in their three-year history. They won five in a row in May, 1963.

FISHER SETS RECORD

Jack Fisher scattered seven hits in going the distance, marking the fifth consecutive complete game for the Mets' pitching staff. No other team in the majors has performed that feat this season.

Tony Cloninger held Houston to one hit through six innings, but the Colts erupted for three runs in the seventh with the help of Gene Oliver's bobble of Carroll Hardy's potential double play ball. Walt Bond scored the tying run on the play, and Bob Aspromonte then scored the winning run as Jerry Grote flied out.

Find Two Bodies In Refrigerator

ISLAND PARK, N.Y. (AP) — An abandoned refrigerator yielded the bodies of two young brothers Friday night.

"As soon as I saw that refrigerator, I got this strange feeling," said Patrolman Robert Halvorsen. The refrigerator was in the family's garage.

George Mayerhofer, 7, and his brother, Joseph, 5, had suffocated. Their bodies were covered with scratches, indicating they fought to get out after the door clicked shut and they realized they were trapped.

There will be 95 million passenger cars registered in the nation by 1976 compared with about 68 million today, the American Automobile Association forecasts.

ALLEGTON, Pa. (AP) — Media plays Old Forge at Northampton today in a double-elimination game of the 39th annual Pennsylvania State American Legion baseball tournament.

Each team has one defeat in the double-elimination tourney.

And it's no rest for the weary, as the winner must face York, so far unbeaten in the tourney, later today, at Coplay.

York handed Media its first loss Friday, winning 4-3 in an 11-inning struggle here.

Feed For Laying Hens Is 48 Per Cent Of Total Cost; Margin Continues Close

By THOMAS E. PIPER

County Farm Agent

The value of feed fed to laying hens isn't determined by cost alone. True, it is an important consideration, but the actual value of the poultry feed is measured by the eggs produced for each dollar invested in the feed.

Feed is the largest single expense in the production of eggs. In most sections of the country approximately two-thirds of the total cost of production is feed. Here in Pennsylvania, the feed percentage of production costs is 48 per cent.

The poultry business is one of small margins — and it is going to be more tight in the future. The total ration fed to laying hens should contain about 17 per cent protein. Recent research has shown that this percentage can be decreased as the birds pass the peak of production. This should result in a savings in feed costs. Some poultrymen are overfeeding protein at certain stages of production and underfeeding at other levels of production. Also, the protein level must be considered in relation to the other nutrients in the ration. If the level of nutrients is restricted, egg production and egg size may suffer because body requirements are met first.

LIME NEEDS VARY

How much lime does it take to correct an acid soil?

The answer depends on several factors. The amount of clay and organic matter in the soil is probably the most important factor. For example, it takes more lime to overcome acidity on a clay loam than a sandy loam soil. To increase the pH level of a clay loam soil from 5.0 to 6.5, it may require about three and one-half tons of lime, but only about one and three-quarters tons to do the same job on a sandy loam soil.

It also takes more lime to correct soil acidity on soils with a high rather than a low organic matter content.

These wide variations in the lime requirements of different soils is the main reason for having a soil test made before applying lime. "Don't guess-soil test" is the most practical way to add the correct amount of lime to your soil.

HOME LANDSCAPING

All records for home landscaping are expected to be broken in 1964. It is a recognized fact that each year more people are turning to expert advice in making their properties more beautiful. Many homeowners realize the low cost advantages and the peacefulness of fun and entertainment on their own grounds in seasonable weather, more time at home, and vacation time for many folks means time in the home area.

Many families entertain their friends in the beautiful garden setting. They find that this is less costly and usually more comfortable than indoors. The setting of the home grounds can consist of a lovely lawn, trees and shrubs planted properly in order to afford the utmost in outdoor pleasure and peacefulness. Through careful selection of plant material, the homeowner can have blooms from spring

BENEFITS OF WHEAT PLAN ARE CITED

Participating farmers can get about the same return for taking part in the 1965 voluntary program as they received from the 1964 program, and they may get more by using new options that will enable many producers to adapt to the program more closely to their farming operations, George Stock, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

The program signup will start in ASCS county offices on August 24 and it will extend through October 2.

The chairman outlined the following program benefits to producers who sign up and then meet provisions of the program:

Price-support loans averaging $1.25 per bushel nationally on the farm's entire production (except any "excess" wheat stored under bond).

Domestic marketing certificates worth 75¢ a bushel on as much as 45 per cent of the normal production of the farm allotment.

DIVERSION PAYMENTS

Export certificates worth 30¢ a bushel on as much as 35 per cent of the normal production of the farm allotment.

STUDENT TO OFFICE

The group marched to Khanh's office building shouting anti-government slogans and waving banners reading "Dictatorship digs a grave for itself."

Khanh was at the seaside resort of Cape St. Jacques, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, putting together a new Cabinet.

Informed sources said a delegation of students went to see him there also.

Rallies against Khanh's regime were also staged in Hue, Tuy Hoa, Can Tho and other towns. The demonstrations — illegal under Viet Nam's state-of-emergency decree — were not stopped, but police and troops kept watch.

The student demands included freedom of the press, abrogation of the national charter promulgated by Khanh last Sunday, an end of alleged repression of Buddhists, and replacement of the military government by civilians.

STUDENT BOYCOTT

Student leaders said they would give Khanh until next Tuesday to give them satisfactory replies, or they would "enlarge the struggle."

Student boycotts of high schools and universities appeared to be widespread today, and examinations were being cut.

The Americans were killed in Kien Hoa Province south of Saigon while the outfit was searching for Viet Cong guerrillas who overran the military outpost of Phu Tuc Thursday.

Three officers and an enlisted man, they were among 202 casualties of Saigon government forces in what may have been the costliest single fight to date for Vietnamese troops.

BODIES RECOVERED

The bodies of the four Americans were recovered today by a relief column which mopped up the area. The relief troops killed a few snipers and took some prisoners, but made no major contact with the guerrilla force.

Another American soldier was killed today in a Communist ambush 370 miles north of Saigon near the Laotian frontier.

He was the fifth U.S. serviceman slain in Viet Nam in 12 hours and the 189th to fall in combat since 1961.

SAYS APPEAL WON'T DETER LBJ CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO (AP) — The Department of Justice has apparently begun an investigation into the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System for possible violations of the antitrust act.

President Joe Cronin of the American League confirmed in Boston Friday night that the Justice Department might be looking into the case.

"We had a representative of the Department of Justice call on us the other day," Cronin said, "and explain that in almost all such instances they undertake preliminary probe of this nature."

"We understand they have visited several ball clubs."

The sale of 80 per cent of the Yankees to CBS last week for $11.2 million brought strong protests from Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, and Arthur Allyn, owner of the Chicago white Sox.

And it was the controversial Finley who broke the news of the Justice Department investigation Friday night.

Captured Flyer Is Well Treated

TOKYO (AP) — Lt. Everett Alvarez Jr., the U.S. pilot captured Aug. 5 by the Communist North Vietnamese, reportedly has sent a letter saying he is well treated.

North Vietnam's radio station at Hanoi said today that Alvarez sent the letter to his wife, Tamee, in San Jose, Calif.

Alvarez's plane was shot down by ground fire during the U.S. air strikes on North Vietnamese patrol boat bases.

The broadcast quoted his letter as saying: "Up to now I have been well treated. I am adequately clothed and sheltered."

Democrats Name 3 Unusual Women To Serve As Convention Secretaries

EDITOR'S NOTE: Committees at the Democratic National Convention are making use of rare talent for their secretaries. Here's the last in a three-part series on important women at the convention.

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

To do secretarial chores for three major convention committees the Democrats are drawing on the experience of an intellectually formidable feminine trio: A nationally known lawyer, a college instructor in political science, a chancery court official.

They are Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, civil rights attorney and first Negro woman to be elected to the New York State Senate; Dr. Mildred Otenaseke who teaches at Notre Dame College in Baltimore; Mrs. Ruth Russell, sometime Business Woman of the Year in Gallatin, Tenn., and a deputy court clerk.

NEW TO POLITICS

Mrs. Motley, a handsome quiet-spoken woman of 42, has been a lawyer with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for 18 years. She led the legal fight to get James Meredith into the University of Mississippi.

Mrs. Motley will be secretary to the Committee on Permanent Organization.

"I'm new to politics really," she says.

Before January of this year her political role had been that of voter. Then she won a special election as state senator and became not only the first woman of her race but of the Democratic party to win a seat in the state Senate.

SEEKS RE-ELECTION

In the senate, she was an unusually active freshman, introducing 25 bills and speaking twice on the floor. By now imbued with the well-known political fever, she plans to run for re-election this fall.

Mrs. Motley's husband, Joel, an insurance and real estate agent, is proud of his wife's activities and keeps a scrapbook on her.

"That means that we have stacks of papers that never get clipped," she laughs.

Her son, Joel Jr., 11, will get out of an upstate New York camp in time to come to the convention, she says.

Mrs. Motley, who was born in New Haven, Conn., one of 12 children, attended Columbia University Law School in New York and started with the NAACP as a law clerk. Says a colleague: "If a case is important or tough, one that requires a major undertaking, then Connie gets it."

WOMEN ACTIVE

Dr. Mildred Otenaseke, who will be secretary of the Committee on Credentials, has been a national committeewoman from Maryland for eight years. She served on the convention site committee, which selected Atlantic City. "I'll let you know later if we did the right thing," she jokes.

In Baltimore, Dr. Otenaseke, who got her Ph.D. in Political Economy, teaches both economics and political science. "It's my 25th year of teaching," she admits.

For 20 years she has been active in Democratic party work and she finds that "women are a more important force than ever. Both parties realize that today, and both parties will make a pitch for the women's vote."

COURT REPORTER

Mrs. Ruth Russell, 5 foot 4, with gray-green eyes and hair she describes as "practically gray," is secretary of the Committee on Resolutions and Platform.

Her job as she sees it is to call the roll of committee and help the chairman any way she can.

"I was court reporter here in Sumner County and in an adjoining county for a long time," she says. "It might come in handy. But it will be so exciting. If I'm called on to take notes I hope I won't get so interested I forget to take it all down."

WORKS WITH HUSBAND

Mrs. Russell has been deputy clerk of the chancery court of Sumner County, Tenn., since 1945. Her husband, Oscar, is clerk, plus serving as master of the chancery court and title attorney. Consequently, the Russells, who have no children, are a study in togetherness. Working in the same office "he always knows where I am," she laughs.

But Mrs. Russell, who attended the 1950 convention as a delegate, will make this trip alone. "My husband is not coming," she says. "Someone in the family has to work."

Pennsy To Decide Rail Consolidation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fate of a major eastern railroad consolidation lay in the hands of the Pennsylvania Railroad today after the Interstate Commerce Commission rejected a request by the state of New Jersey that the case be reconsidered.

The ICC's authorization of the consolidation of the Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate and Wabash Railroads in a 7,450-mile system from the Great Lakes to the East Coast took effect Thursday after the New Jersey request was turned down.

Now, the Pennsylvania Railroad must decide whether the consolidation can take place.

There will be none unless the Pennsy agrees within 30 days to divest itself of its controlling stock in the N&W and the Wabash.

Damage had not been estimated nor had the cause of the fire been determined. It was reported, however, that the flames broke out in one of the barns, behind the apartment building.

Abigail McCarthy, Short Story Writer, Is Intelligent And Skilled Campaigner

EDITOR'S NOTE: Intellectual, skilled campaigner, devoted wife and mother, Abigail McCarthy is in the best tradition of political wives. But would she want her children to go into politics? Here are her views, in the second of a two-part series on wives of the potential Democratic vice president candidates.

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

The letter to his wife Abigail said in part:

"I must not write a word to you about politics, because you are a woman."

Obviously the writer was not Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination. He knows too well how effective his wife Abigail is on a campaign circuit.

Mrs. McCarthy is the second memorable Abigail in American politics. The first, Mrs. John Adams, recipient of the descending correspondence from her spouse, is perhaps best known for hanging her wash in the East Room while she was the First Lady in the White House.

Also housewifely, Mrs. McCarthy is in addition a talented short story writer, a former college instructor in contemporary literature and world literature and a Phi Beta Kappa. SHE'S PROUD

About the possibility of her husband getting President Johnson's nod she says:

"I feel as I have every step

the people who aren't informed, who don't know any better. In general, our experience in politics has been a heartwarming one. We have come to know some wonderful people."

CHILDREN TO GO

She has promised the children they can go to the convention in Atlantic City "and they're all very much excited by it. It's their first one."

The McCarthys are longtime friends of Sen. Hubert Humphrey, also a top contender for the vice presidential nomination, and his family. They don't expect the President's choice, whoever it is, to upset that friendship.

"Actually, it's a great compliment to our state, considering we have only 3½ million people and nine electoral votes, to have both senators being considered."

Of Muriel Humphrey, Mrs. McCarthy says: "I think she is one of the nicest women in politics. I mean that. She's a kind, warm, friendly person. She's steadfast. We've been good friends for 16 years."

WORK COFFEE TRAIL

Together they have hit the coffee caravan trail — traveling from town to town, having coffee here, lunch there, afternoon coffee still another place.

"We cover the district that way," she explains. "It's one sure way of finding out what people are interested in, what's bothering them. I don't try to speak for my husband. I just try to tell them what he's doing, as I know it."

Until the convention Mrs. McCarthy is spending most of her time in Minnesota campaigning for the senator, who is seeking a second term.

Soft-spoken Mrs. McCarthy, 48, and her husband, who met while they were both teaching, are both devout Roman Catholics, in addition to her involvement with ecumenism, she is active in the inter-racial movement.

Shrugging off her reputation for being a famous wit in Washington, she says: "I don't think I am. But I do hope we both have a good sense of humor. We need it."

BARRY LEVELS DEEP AMNESIA CHARGE AT LBJ

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater turns from politics to his favorite hobby today after charging that "deep amnesia" marks the way President Johnson's policymakers deal with the Soviet Union.

The Republican presidential nominee flies to New York tonight to address the 50th annual meeting of the American Radio Relay League.

His press secretary, Paul Wagner, said Goldwater, an amateur radio operator, would make a nonpolitical speech to his fellow hams but might slip in a remark or two about Johnson.

Goldwater complained about U.S. policy toward the Soviet Union Friday in a statement endorsing legislation to condemn Soviet treatment of Jews.

The senator likened the U.S.S.R.'s treatment of its Jewish minority to Nazi Germany's repression of Jews.

Goldwater, whose father was a Jew, said in a statement prepared for the Congressional Record: "Too many of us have forgotten that present-day Soviet anti-Semitism is only the most recent of a series of gigantic persecutions by the Communist regime."

Top GOP Negroes Meet To Confer

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negro Republican leaders gather here today for a two-day informal convention that aims to strengthen the Negroes' hand in GOP politics.

Although the assembly will include some of the disgruntled delegates to last month's Republican national convention, a spokesman for the group said there is no intention of splitting with the party.

John Clay, a Philadelphia attorney, who is secretary of the group, says "we are going to establish a permanent organization within the framework of our party."

He said that in a way this might be called a strategy meeting, with an eye to the political campaign ahead, but that "in a larger sense, it is educational, looking beyond any single campaign."

Emmaline Henry Is New Co-Star For Mickey Rooney Along With Mickey's Own Son, 17, In New ABC Series

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

Question: "What's an Emma-line Henry?"

Answer: It's a five-foot-six blonde girl, who off-screen looks enough like a wistful Doris Day to have been asked for Day autographs.

At least that was the answer two years ago. Things have changed.

So, OK! You know that last year she played Mrs. Dickens in "I'm Dickens . . . H's Fenster."

But did you know that this year she's playing a Mrs. again? Opposite Mickey Rooney in "Mickey" (ABC, Wednesday nights 8 to 9:30 p.m. starting September 16).

And furthermore, would you believe she got both of these plums without pitching? In fact she was doing a club date in Panama when Dickens-Fenster was brewing and in England as "Mickey" was pending. She'd never met the producers nor had she met Mickey himself (who'd chosen her) until they day they started filming.

Why the vogue for Emmaline?

"Talent . . . real talent. It's that rare" says comedian Marty Ingels who starred as "Fenster."

EMMALINE NOT PUSHY

And Marty, who's quite a talent himself, should know.

"Let's see, I met Emmaline six years ago when we were working at the St. Regis Hotel in New York. She was in a skit. What talent! She could act, sing, mug. She had comedy sense. She was beautiful; and a fine girl. You don't forget somebody like that."

And he didn't. After he'd been cast as Fenster and John Austin as Dickens they were still searching for the right girl. Marty mentioned Emmaline . . . then couldn't find her. When they did she insisted she had to finish her Panama Hilton commitment.

"I'm going to take extra vitamins to keep up with Mickey Rooney," says his new co-star Emmaline Henry. Mickey's own 17-year-old son, Tim, plays Mickey's son in their new ABC series. Brian Nash plays the seven-year-old.

"Emmaline is not pushy," muses the ebullient Marty, "Me; I am." He kept up his share of vetoing other candidates. Then finally Emmaline winged in, auditioned and got the unanimous nod.

When the series was cancelled after the first year, Emmaline said "Yes" to doing a musical in London. But Mickey Rooney and producer Selig Seligman liked what they'd seen in "Dickens-Fenster."

Seligman caught up with her before she's finalized the London contract and said something to the effect of "We want you. But we don't have a script yet; we don't have a date set."

Emmaline joined in on the dream, had her English contract so written that she could get off to come back and shoot the pilot "if." Four months passed then whiz-bang things began to dovetail. The musical finished its run just as the "Hurry to California" summons came.

EXTRA VITAMINS

What changes will the new show be making in her life?

"Very little in one way because I'm used to a similar schedule from last year. About all I'll need are some extra vitamins to keep up with Mickey.

He has some marvelous spur-of-the-moment ideas for the show . . . and he wants to keep it very lively." It's all about the problems of a couple with two children who inherit a resort hotel managed by Samme Tong (formerly of "Bachelor Father"). Mickey's own 17-year-old son, Tim, plays the elder boy, seven-year-old Brian Nash plays the younger.

And oh, yes in addition to the vitamins, Emmaline is getting some wigs.

"Funny, I never was able to use the pool outside my apartment because it would wreck my hair." Then came the pilot. It wasn't a case of "everybody into the pool" just Brian who was supposed to have fallen in and Emmaline who was supposed to rescue him and the cast's big shaggy dog who wasn't supposed to be there but who loves to swim. Emmaline didn't know that, though, really tried to help the dog and all in all zooped around the pool for quite a spell.

Gh!" she reminisces. "Can you imagine standing around shivering in wet clothes. The dress wasn't the worst. It's the wet shoes and wet girdle!" From a production point of view though it was the wet hair. That day's work with a fast call for a wig man.

DIFFERENT BACKGROUNDS

Unlike Mickey Rooney who was carried on stage when he was a baby, Emmaline didn't go "pro" until she was 12. She'd auditioned for a Philadelphia children's show, "found out I could sing" and headlined her own radio broadcast for a season.

Hers was a nonshow business family (her father managed a country club) so it was back to school; but she kept acting in school shows; branched out more and more. "We had some really good semipro stuff. You could learn a lot. Big directors would come to town like Keenan Wynn and George Murphy."

Then she heard they were auditioning "Little Boy Blue" a musical that might make Broadway.

"I didn't know I was supposed to bring my own music." Hastily she and the pianist thought maybe "Cockeyed Optimist" would work out. "I made a complete fool of myself, she says but then a voice from the darkened theater called out, "Try again, try something you know."

She still doesn't know what made her do it, but she sailed into "The Star Spangled Banner."

Everybody stood up.

Computers To Get Roles In TV Shows

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television's 1964-65 season looms as the year of the computer.

The miracle machines are not new in television. But soon they will be blossoming forth as actors.

The star of a new CBS comedy series, "My Living Doll," has a computer in the title role. The character looks like a beautiful human female, but is a disguised machine programmed to exhibit every human characteristic except emotion.

Then there is "Thrush," the international cartel of evil which NBC's "Man from U.N.C.L.E." will fight each week. The scheming head of this vicious organization is a computer, programmed by the villainous agents to dream up dreadful plots for the brave, good agents of "Uncle" (the crime-fighting organization) to foil just before the final commercial.

Computers will turn up as dress extras and minor characters in ABC's "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," a flashing computer will spew out information in the science fiction and adventure tales, including "The Outer Limits."

FIRST WITH MOST

ABC, once again, will launch its entire fall schedule of new shows in a one week period starting Sept. 14, arriving on the home screens first with the most.

CBS will start its fall programming, for the most part, the following week.

But NBC's opening gambit is to spread the new shows and seasonal premieres over a longer period — through September and into October — one night at a time. All of its Monday evening shows, new and returning, will start on Oct. 5; all its Friday night efforts on Sept. 25, and so on.

Actually, the first new show to move into the network lineup will be NBC's star-studded "Rogues," on Sunday night,

NBC Is Planning More Color In '65

NBC announces plans for a fuller season of full-color for 1964-65.

"That Was The Week That Was" switches over to color when it switches to a new night (Tuesday) on its return.

The new early Saturday evening shows, especially designed to attract the younger viewer, will be in color also. They are "Flipper" and "Mr. Magoo." The sports schedule too is heavily slanted toward colorcasts, including the 14-game collegiate football schedule.

Also on the "color" list is much of the network's exclusive Olympics Game telecasting . . . and the World Series.

Stars Reveal Side Talents On TV Shows

It was not by accident or coincidence that, on various occasions on a TV network audience participation show, the following happened:

—Robert Goulet revealed that he had once been a cement mixer in Canada, and mixed a trough of cement to prove it.

—Phyllis Diller revealed that she was a secret saxophonist, and played the pro.

—Carroll Baker told of having been a baton twirler, and proved it.

—Bobby Darin played the violin.

—Carol Channing exhibited a canvas she had painted, and started on a side career as an exhibiting artist.

—Raymond Massey revealed that he was a part-time cabinet maker, and showed a table of his construction.

Behind these and similar gems of revelation was persuasive ex-Clevelander, "talent coordinator" Leni Landorf, currently performing similar chores for ABC-TV's "Missing Links," presided over by Dick Clark (Mondays through Fridays, 11:30-12 p.m. EST).

"Talent coordinator sounds pretty fancy and dull," the blonde bride of four months allowed. "You might define me as a celebrity corral-er." And that's precisely what she's been up to for the past five years — using tact, persistence, patience, and a great interest in people, to lure show business celebrities before the TV game show cameras and microphones.

JOAN CRAWFORD FIRST

She still recalls the quaking and trepidation that seized her at the thought of phoning her first prospect, John Crawford. "I was petrified. How do you speak to a screen goddess? I finally managed to make the call. She was charming and gracious — and she accepted. My first triumph!" Miss Landorf smiled in fond recollection. "Looking back, it's amazing how nervy you become in approaching people."

It wasn't only nerve that Miss Landorf developed. There were also more subtle qualities. "After a celebrity is booked," she explains, "it's necessary, gently and tactfully, to lead them down memory lane to find a significant incident or story to use on the air."

Nerve and gentleness and tact have made a well-traveled road between the greats of show business and the programs graced by Miss Landorf. But for her it has not all been a fun thing. There have been eruptions of temperament, which she sums up: "The most temperamental have been the least talented." And the most difficult part of her job is the frequent pile up of middlemen-agents, managers, personal representatives, press agents — that she must pass through before getting to the star she's seeking.

TYPICAL WORK DAY

On this, a typical work day, Miss Landorf had made overtures to Douglas Fairbanks Jr. for a "Missing Links" appearance and, while "sweating out" his answer, she recalled, as if leafing through a cherished memory book, "that Bob Hope was most charming and gentlemanly and considerate; that the late Dick Powell, who had been built up to her as an unapproachable, preoccupied production tycoon, reacted beautifully on the phone, and was a dream to work with on the show, that Roddy McDowall, whose hobby is photography, kept a promise, and photographed her engage-

Plans Change On Convention

In the six weeks since the Republican Convention in San Francisco plans have been finalized — and some plans changed — in the networks' coverage of the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City.

Biggest switch was probably the CBS changeover from an anchorman (Walter Cronkite) to anchormen (Robert Trout and Roger Mudd). Cronkite, however, will be in Atlantic City with his regular evening newscast.

Huntley and Brinkley, of ment; that Boris Karloff and the late Peter Lorre, despite their usual roles, were the most gentle and charming of men." And, for some reason, her special delight was "when I discovered during rehearsals that Raymond Massey was a great galler."

P.S. Douglas Fairbanks Jr., capitulated to the telephone charms of Miss Landorf as viewers of "Missing Links" are by now aware.

course, carry on with the anchorman job at NBC's convention coverage . . . this time too.

As it did at the Republican Convention, ABC is setting heavy store by its prestige "consultant - commentators." And there were a couple of weeks of heavy guessing about how Senator Hubert Humphrey, committed to ABC for commentary, and was going to handle things if he were to become the vice presidential nominee.

The other new news in convention coverage was the increasing of George Gobel's air time right into the main stream of the political commentary. His wry, dry humor on behalf of Zerox at the Republican Convention went over so well it led to the re-thinking by ABC.

PRESIDENTIAL ANNOUNCER

Robert Trout — CBS's co-anchorman for the Democratic National Convention early in his career was a Presidential announcer . . . used to introduce Herbert Hoover's talks from the White House.

The forthcoming NBC special "Ganges, The Sacred River" will feature a fight between a mongoose and a snake.

Set Record

At Sahara

"And come back again as soon as you can!" That's what the Las Vegas Sahara is employing Johnny Carson. Little wonder. He broke attendance records the month he played there. And it was his first night club whirl. And yes, he is going back as soon as he manages the time. That'll be next summer.

Sammee Tong who did the house-boy bit so long in "Bachelor Father" really is a bachelor . . . and a gourmet cook. Sammee's now hard at work on his new role. This time he's being a scheming resort manager of Mickey Rooney's new "Mickey" series.

That file that Morgan Beatty has amassed, and which proves so valuable at convention time, is insured for $25,000.

We don't have the recipe but you have Jackie Gleason's word for it. Cream of Peanut soup is a delicacy too good to miss.

Barry Morse is sometimes at the mercy of "The Fugitive." It's not always vice versa. The English born actor who plays

Young Actor Prefers Work To Baseball

Who says all child actors were forced into the business and would rather be out playing baseball? Well, certainly not Jay North. Now that his long "Dennis" series has ended, he reports he misses it. He found it more challenging and more fun than just playing around and at a well-mannered 12, can't wait to get back to work again.

Do you believe in ghosts? Well, if you don't, don't bother to tell a certain NBC cameraman. He walked off the filing of "The Stately Ghosts of England" (which won't be ready for showing until the winter). Seems he was ordered to try to get a shot from a castle wall . . . but he never did even get the ladder up because unaccountable showers of stones let loose everytime he tried . . . and one hit him in the head.

And speaking of England: Red Skelton has chosen London as the locale for the debut of his 14th season on T.V. The August taping will be shown (CBS) on September 22.

See where Ernie Flatt, former Garry Moore Show choreographer, will stage the dance numbers for the hour-long revue series starring Carol Burnett. Carol's husband, Joe Hamilton, who's producing, says this show won't employ a host.

Since Gracie Allen retired, hubby George Burns seems to be working twice as hard. In addition to his new "Wendy and Me" series with Connie Stevens, he's supervising production on "No Time for Sergeants" starring Sammy Jackson.

Can't wait to see our gravel-voiced movie comedian William Demarest as the "brother" of gruff William Frawley "house-mother" of my "My Three Sons" series. Maybe it could lead to a spin-off and a new series?

Janet Leigh likes TV — at least well enough to star in a Bob Hope Theater special this coming semester. She's signed for a Stirling Silliphant script, "Murder in the First."

ATHLETE

Conlan Carter — who plays "Doc" in ABC's "Combat" was a champion pole-vaulter when he was in college.

SMALL

Atlantic City is said to be the smallest city in which a Democratic National Convention has been held.

Ken Curtis, Festus Hagen on "Gunsmoke," is married to the former Barbara Ford, daughter of motion picture director John Ford.

Next Week

Read Ruth Thompson's coming article in The Gettysburg Times August 30 and find out how English-born actor Barry Morse of "The Fugitive" manages to live in Canada and work in Hollywood.

the pursuing cop in the series, had to be pretty tentative about two nice specials on Canadian television. Though he's not in every episode of the ABC series he has to be ready when the writers think David Janssen is slipping too far away. "I said if they understood I might have to back out at the last minute, then I'd try to do both. I think I'm all set for the first . . . but the Canadian group is very understanding."

Changes Are Ahead For Old TV Favorites

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Should ABC's new comedy series, "No Time For Sergeants," prove to be anything like the movie of the same name, a better title for the television series would be "Jethro Clampett Joins the Army."

The business of adapting a popular film or book as a series has certain marked advantages. "Dr. Kildare" made its television debut as a pioneering doctor show with a bit of audience insurance because a lot of people knew and loved the old radio and movie "Kildare" shows.

"Sergeants" has the advantage of the popular hillbilly theme of an innocent country jake who naively outwits the sharp con men — at least that was the way it was in the movie, now visible around the channels in reruns.

EXPENSIVE GAMBLE

Getting a television program onto the air is an expensive gamble with odds so high against a hit show that it is surprising so many people are willing to take the risk.

An even more delicate operation, however, is maintaining public interest in a series that has been around a few seasons and whose format is beginning to wear thin.

Thus at the beginning of each new television season we inevitably hear about changes in progress.

CHANGES AHEAD

For instance, this season NBC will send "Dr. Kildare" to Rome, far from his usual hospital base, and Bill Dana's bellhop character will have a chance to leave his hotel occasionally.

"Rawhide," which has been driving that herd of cattle over the CBS plains for years, will spruce up with some big-name guest stars, while "Gunsmoke's" Marshal Dillon will have a new sidekick after all those years of relying on Chester for chuckles.

"Lassie" will lose her old adoring family and start life anew with an adoring forest ranger. "Mr. Novak" will encounter a new, pretty dean of girls at his high school, and Andy Griffith will be romantically interested in a new girl in town for the second or third time since the series started.

A real Westerner, John McIntire, wagonmaster of ABC-TV's "Wagon Train," won a national bronc riding championship and was awarded the Teddy Roosevelt Trophy when he was 16 years old. An adopted Westerner, Robert Fuller, a native of Troy, N.Y. who plays McIntire's scout in the series, has become an expert horseman and marksman, spending his spare time hunting, fishing and prospecting.

Alan Reed, the voice of ABC-TV's "Fred Flintstone," is a veteran of 30 years in radio where he was famed for his characterizations of Falstaff Openshaw on "The Fred Allen Show," as Rubinoff with Eddie Cantor, and as the original daddy to Fanny Brice's Baby Snooks.

William Frawley, who plays grandfather Bub in ABC-TV's "My Three Sons," was himself one of three sons.

Comedienne Barbara Heller of the Jackie Gleason show on the CBS Television Network facetiously gives her measurements 21-21-21.

Here's pie in your eye! Globs of admiration keep coming the way of Danny Thomas shown here with screen spouse Marjorie Lord. Only real problem the comedy pair has is trying to explain her real-life husband and his real-life wife to fans who've come to think of them as Mr. and Mrs. Danny Williams.

Who's going to outlast whom? Tennessee Ernie Ford is at least giving a good try . . . but it looks as though the other fellow is going to win. Ern's Monday-Friday show is aired on ABC direct from San Francisco.

Raymond Burr May Quit As Perry Mason

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Perry Mason's" fans turned around and accidentally nipped star Raymond Burr recently. Mr. Burr was in no position to complain.

For the past three or four years, the actor has suggested about this time that it will be his final season. He is interested in other pursuits, he says, including his art galleries, motion pictures and a stage career. There follows a period of considerable excitement at CBS but ultimately comes the news that "Perry Mason" will continue for another season or so.

This year, however, Burr started grumbling in print ahead of his usual schedule. This led television innocents to believe that the summer reruns from 1961 and 1962 shows were to be Perry's swan-song. They wrote in, declaring their undying affection.

MEANS IT THIS TIME

For the first time in the seven-year history of the program, however, Burr's prediction of the end to the successful television career of Erle Stanley Gardner's most popular character may be accurate.

Gail Patrick Jackson, producer of the series and Gardner's partner in Paisano Productions, says: "I feel that Ray means it this year."

"This year" means, however, there will be the usual quota of new shows to run from September to April or May.

UP TO RATINGS

Burr's contract expires at the end of the 1964-65 season and CBS has made no move as yet to renew the series or star. This situation could change suddenly, should the venerable program — in its new, earlier time slot on Thursdays — nab a high audience rating.

Mrs. Jackson and her Paisano partners are preparing other Gardner literary properties for conversion to television.

"But as far as 'Perry Mason' is concerned, we're old-fashioned and I think our fans are," said Mrs. Jackson. "They like the show the way it is and they don't like change. We know. We tried adding new characters here and there — and went back to our original form."

CARSON COMPETITION

So — for the time being at least — "Perry Mason" will still be winning his weekly case in the courtroom. It sure gives a warm comfortable feeling to know that something is stable in that unstable world of television.

ABC, after studying the generally enthusiastic comments on a recent five-day test run, has awarded interviewer — commentator Les Crane a late-evening weekday network show starting Nov. 9. This will bring him into head-on conflict with NBC's Johnny Carson and, in many communities, Steve Allen's syndicated series.

Bill Berger, Emory Warren on "The Edge of Night," is a graduate of Columbia University, where he majored in industrial engineering.

Dick York, playing the husband of Elizabeth Montgomery (a witch) on ABC-TV's upcoming "Bewitched" series, was an established radio actor in Chicago before he was 10.
